Nixon said the flights "will be protected." The flights, he said, had been discontinued after the shooting down of a U. S. unarmed plane and added "I have today ordered that these flights be continued." (AP Wirephoto)

President Says Attack Differs From Pueblo's

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says the shooting down of a U.S. reconnaissance plane this week "was a completely surprise attack," presenting a different crisis than that faced by President Lyndon Johnson when the USS Pueblo was seized.

Haunted perhaps by a campaign taunt in which he referred to North Korea as "a fourth rate military power," Nixon drew some distinctions Friday between the two incidents.

In his campaign for president last year, Nixon promised he would not allow the nation to suffer another dilemma such as the Jan. 23, 1968, capture of the intelligence ship Pueblo by North Korean patrol boats.

Faced with the downing of the Navy intelligence plane this week, Nixon has chosen—as did Johnson—to follow a course of diplomacy rather than retaliation.

But, Nixon told a White House news conference, the two incidents are not parallel.

He said the Pueblo was threatened in advance. Had there been a similar threat against reconnaissance flights over the Sea of Japan, Nixon said, he would have ordered protective action.

The Pueblo seizure, Nixon said, "was quite different in two respects."

"One, there was some uncertainty for some time as to where the Pueblo was. Present indications are that the Pueblo was in international waters. But there was some uncertainty."

Nixon said there was never any doubt as to the location of the intelligence plane—at least 28 miles outside Korean airspace at its closest approach to the Communist nation.

RNA Vice President Was Mark

Claim Cop Killing Result Of An Assassination Plot

DETROIT (AP)—The slaying of a white Detroit policeman three weeks ago was the frustrated result of a plot to assassinate the first vice president of the Republic of New Africa, a spokesman for the separatist group said Friday.

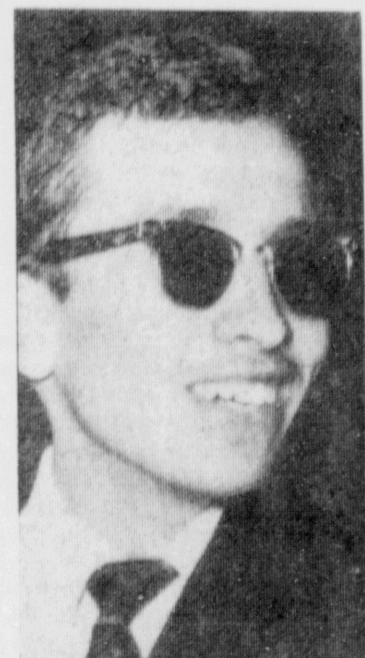

Richard Henry, who goes by the name of Brother Imari, told a rally of the RNA that his brother, Milton Henry, was marked for assassination. Imari did not say who planned the alleged assassination attempt, but he inferred it was a police plot.

The incident erupted shortly after an RNA rally at an inner city church March 29. One white policeman was slain and another seriously wounded after they radioed back to their precinct they were checking on about a dozen Negro men with rifles.

In the subsequent police invasion of the church building, four persons were wounded and one suffered a broken leg.

"Someone with a gun had sense enough to move away, and draw the police car away from its target, Brother Gaidi," Imari said. "Looks like somebody had sense enough to know what to do to save the first vice president—and he did it," the RNA minister of the interior told the 600 supporters jamming a Wayne State University auditorium.

Imari said the police reinforcements who had shot their way into the church in the incident were "guilty of felonies."

Rafael Viera

Police Commissioner Johannes Spreen had said an investigation disclosed the arriving police were fired upon from the church. "In due time we'll identify them," Imari said of the police. "And they will be brought to justice."

The rally Friday night was carefully controlled by the elite guard of the RNA, the Black Legion.

All people were thoroughly frisked and searched before being allowed to enter the auditorium. A photographer whose flash accidentally fired was told to leave and his film was confiscated.

The RNA spokesman said one of the men charged with attempt to murder in the incident who later took the stand against his comrades had been beaten for four days by police. But a police spokesman denied that allegation early today.

Viera Surrenders
The man to whom Imari referred was David Brown, 19, of Compton, Calif. He was identified by Imari as a member of the RNA, but not of the Black Legion.

Brown took the stand in Detroit Recorder's Court Friday to testify he saw Rafael Viera, 20, of New York fire six times at Patrolman Michael Czapski.

Viera surrendered himself to the FBI in New York Friday and was held in $100,000 bail.

Brown also testified he saw Alfred Hibbitt, 38, of Detroit, fire at patrolman Richard Worobec, who was wounded.

New Jersey Is Ordered Back To West Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — Potent U.S. naval forces, including the battleship New Jersey and possibly a pair of aircraft carriers, were reported steaming to new positions today to provide protection for American intelligence missions off North Korea.

The Pentagon announced redeployment of extensive forces Friday shortly after President Nixon ordered resumption of reconnaissance flights with the promise they will cease to be "fair game" for North Korean jets.

Flights off the North Korean coast were halted Tuesday after an EC121 reconnaissance plane with 31 men aboard apparently was shot down. Only two bodies have been found in the Sea of Japan where the craft fell.

Redeployment of the naval forces was viewed as a protective step rather than a threat of retaliation against North Korea.

Swift Rescue
The New Jersey, which had been scheduled to arrive in Long Beach, Calif., today after duty off Vietnam, was ordered to turn around and return to the Western Pacific.

While no announcement was made of the strategy to be used in providing protection for the reconnaissance planes, indications were fighters would be stationed where they could come to the swift rescue of any threatened U.S. aircraft. Fighters would be kept in the air during intelligence missions, but not flying wing-to-wing with the reconnaissance aircraft.

Except for the New Jersey, the Pentagon did not say what ships were involved and the announcement stopped short of specifying the new positions actually were in the Sea of Japan. A Defense Department spokesman said only the redeployment involved "a number of different types of vessels."

One carrier believed on the way to the Sea of Japan is the USS Kitty Hawk which carries 90 warplanes. The Kitty Hawk left Hong Kong with two destroyers earlier this week without any announcement of its destination.

Vital To Security
In ordering resumption of the intelligence flights, Nixon pronounced them vital to the security of U.S. troops stationed in South Korea.

Nixon revealed for the first time that the United States is capable of "reading" radar pictures of another country from miles away.

He said both showed that the EC121 was 90 miles offshore—well outside North Korean territory—when shot down.

Military experts said the crew of the EC121 would not have been alarmed immediately by the presence of MIGs, since the North Korean fighters routinely fly over them over international water. The sources said the extensive electronic gear on the plane also would have been concentrating on monitoring North Korean radio tracking rather than watching for approaching aircraft.

Freed Teacher To Get Back Pay

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — Suspended Highland Park teacher Marilyn Marks will go back to her classroom Monday and will be paid for the week of school she missed under terms of an agreement reached Friday.

Miss Marks, 33, was suspended from the suburban Detroit school system April 10 after she told Detroit police a pupil indicated she had information on the shooting March 29 of Patrolman Michael Czapski near New Bethel Baptist Church.

The agreement was reached after a meeting between Miss Marks, Supt. Paul H. Emerich and two lawyers.

Police, after questioning the student, said she had not witnessed the shooting and had no information on it.

Emerich would not comment on the meeting. He said further details would be given in a statement to be made Monday.

Marquette Job Corps To Close Immediately

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has ordered seven Job Corps centers to begin closing immediately and six others to start shutting down by May 1, a move likely to fan further resentment in Congress.

The swift action in the closing process came Friday, a week after Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz announced that 59 of the corps' 113 centers will be closed by July 1.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said the Office of Economic Opportunity notified the centers by telegram Friday. He already had announced that he would introduce a resolution next week providing "that no Job Corps installation be shut down until Congress completes its normal legislative and budgetary deliberations on this program."

90-Day Clause
Bertrand M. Harding, acting OEO director, said all OEO contracts for Job Corps centers have 90-day termination clauses and the notices set the process in action. "There's not going to be any general locking of doors overnight," he said.

Installations listed for immediate closing are three in Puerto Rico—Guyama, Juana Diaz and Viécus—plus Camp Kilmer, N.J.; Oak Glen, Calif.; Marquette, Mich.; and Huntington, W. Va.

Scheduled to start shutdowns May 1 are the facilities at Clinton, Iowa; St. Louis; Poland Spring, Maine; Koko Head, Hawaii; Omaha, Neb.; and Moses Lake, Wash.

Nelson Endorsement
Cranston's office said notices will be sent Monday to the Agriculture and Interior Departments directing them to close the other 46 centers.

There is some doubt that Cranston's resolution could force the administration to abandon its plan. It could, however, embarrass the administration politically.

It drew the immediate endorsement of Sen. Gaylord Nelson.

Cautious Sirhan About Outburst

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, whose volatile courtroom outbursts at times disrupted his trial, was cautioned by his defenders to behave himself when the jury returned its verdict. He did—and the defense hopes it will pay off for him Monday in the penalty phase of the trial.

Like everyone else in the room, jurors kept a close watch on the mercurial Arab Thursday when their verdict was read—guilty of first degree murder in the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sirhan sat quietly at the counsel table, making no sound, no gestures.

"We didn't want him to louse himself up with the jury in case the verdict turned out as it did," Michael A. McConnell, a private investigator for the defense, said today. McConnell, who has had much influence with the 25-year-old Sirhan through the 15 weeks of trial, talked with Sirhan before the verdict.

"Those people," McConnell said of the jury, "when they start deciding whether to give him life or death, will remember how he acted. We didn't want him to antagonize them."

For the same reason, McConnell and the defense attorneys, would not say anything about Sirhan's later reaction—except to say that he was disappointed, didn't cry, and "took it like a man."

The juror's wives and husbands were allowed to visit them at their hotel for the three-day weekend. The defense team feared they might, despite Judge Herbert Walker's instructions, discuss what news media reported about Sirhan.

U. P. Restriction

LANSING (AP) — The state highway department says spring weight restrictions will be lifted Tuesday from seasonal state highways between M 55 and the Straits of Mackinac. Restrictions already have been removed on seasonal highways south of M 55, but continue in effect in the Upper Peninsula.

Illinois Taking Flood Lightly

By The Associated Press
Officials estimated flood waters have caused $31 million damage so far in three Midwestern states, and one official said he felt people in an area downstream were treating the coming flood crests too lightly.

Civil defense and state officials made these preliminary flood damage estimates:
— $5 million in Minnesota, where 700 families were still homeless.

— $19 million in South Dakota, where 5,000 families were evacuated and 1,000 remain homeless.

— At least $7 million in North Dakota.

And the Civil Defense coordinator for northwestern Illinois says residents in his area, where the Mississippi is due to crest April 28, are taking the situation lightly.

"There's been so much publicity given protective works," said Donald E. Lemme, "that people believe all they have to do is sweat this thing out."

Lemme said Friday that apathy in the Quad Cities area could cause trouble—the kind seen in 1965 when the Quad Cities alone suffered $8.5 million in damages. The Quad Cities area includes Davenport, Iowa; Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill.

The problem, Lemme said is a shortage of volunteers to patrol the dikes to watch for washouts.

$17,000 Reward For Sex Slayer

YPSILANTI (AP) — Reward funds climbed to $17,000 as detectives pressed their hunt Friday for the killer or killers of five girls aged 13 to 22 in the Ypsilanti area.

Mayor Timothy Dyer announced that the city was posting a $5,000 reward. The Ypsilanti Savings Bank offered a $1,000 reward. In Detroit, 13 miles east of Ypsilanti, The Detroit News offered $2,000 for information leading to capture and conviction of the killer of the latest victim, creating total of $10,000 offered by the newspaper in all five killings. The Ypsilanti Press earlier posted a $1,000 sum.

Authorities, still lacking solid clues to the killer or killers, attempted to trace the origin of a child's doll found Friday hanging face down from a barb wire fence in the same, general area where the bodies of the victims were found over the past 21 months.

Undersheriff Harold J. Owings Jr. of Washtenaw County said the doll was discovered "too close to the murder scenes to be written off" and may have been "more than a sick joke."

The only clothing on the doll was a ragged, white blouse.

The most recent victim, 13-year-old Dawn Bosom of Ypsilanti, was found on a gravel road Wednesday. Most of her clothing was missing except for a white blouse pulled above her chest. She had been gashed repeatedly with a sharp instrument on the chest and stomach and an electric cord was knotted around her neck.

Funeral services for Miss Bosom were scheduled for Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Moore Funeral Home, with burial in Forest Hill Cemetery.

Toe Soviet Line: New Czech Boss

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's new Communist party chief declared political war on those who do not toe the Kremlin line, but informants said today the chief, Gustav Husak, made some concessions to get the support of liberals in government.

One source said Husak got all but five votes of the 190-member Central Committee, which ousted reformist party chief Alexander Dubcek in a secret ballot Thursday. Informants cited these reasons for his strong showing.

"We shall not back down... We shall not call it child's play, but a struggle, and I am absolutely sure of political victory," said Husak. "Anti-Sovietism is incompatible with the ideology of this party. It is in sharp contradiction to the state policy of this state."

He repeated criticism that the Dubcek regime had allowed "anti-Communist" elements to plunge Czechoslovakia into a crisis.

Despite these concessions, few doubted that Czechoslovakia is in for a more authoritarian brand of communism under the 56-year-old Slovak.

The news agency CTK today circulated Husak's first major foreign policy address, made at the Thursday-Friday Central Committee session, in which he promised to "take up the glove" against rightists and anti-Soviet elements.

Campus Violence Hurts Drive To Lower Voting Age Gains

By The Associated Press
A drive to lower the voting age from 21 is gaining momentum in several of the 40 states where it is a live issue but campus violence is causing a backlash that could halt it.

Legislation on the subject is pending in 38 states and constitutional amendments are before the voters in two others to be decided by referendum in 1970, an Associated Press survey showed.

"National leaders have come out in recent months in favor of lowering the voting age," says state Rep. Jim Beatty of North Carolina. "The public is more conscious of the issue and there is increasing sentiment for it."

But legislators in some states say student violence and disorders reflect an irresponsibility and immaturity that will work against passage of such legislation.

Look Like Citizens

And the crop of beards and long hair among the nation's youth also is having an effect on the debate.

"If we're going to give these youngsters voting privileges, they should look like citizens," said Wyoming state Sen. J.W. Myers.

Four states have a voting age lower than 21: Georgia and Kentucky, both 18, Hawaii, 20, and Alaska, 19.

The political implications of any widespread change are obvious. There are roughly 11 million Americans between the ages of 18 and 21. There were 72 million voters in the last presidential election. In some states, the number of potential new voters is substantial. In New York, a change to 18 would mean approximately 800,000 more eligible voters. In California, the figure is close to a million.

Minnesota To 19

On Thursday the Minnesota House Elections Committee approved a proposed constitutional amendment lowering the state's voting age from 21 to 19. A proposal to lower it to 18 is pending in the state senate.

The state's governor, Harold LeVander, a Republican, who has said he will sign either bill, told the legislature: "It is time to quit preaching at the young to become interested while blocking them from becoming involved. Let us let them in."

A resolution to lower the voting age to 19 was passed recently by the Ohio Senate, 30-3, and has a good chance to clear the house. The resolution is supported by Gov. James A. Rhodes and both political parties.

The New Jersey Senate this week unanimously approved a November referendum on lowering the age to 18. Vote on the measure, which now goes to the Assembly, was 30-0.

In Pennsylvania, the Senate has approved a constitutional amendment that would lower the age to 18. The House set the age at 19. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, a Republican, supports the House proposal. And this is expected to prevail. The referendum cannot get on the ballot until 1971.

Sen. Martin J. Schreiber of Milwaukee, sponsor of one of three lower voting age bills in the Wisconsin Legislature, argues: "If we continue to deny the right of young people to vote, it's possible they'll be even more inclined to join militant minority groups."

But the legislature, which recently saw National Guard troops put down students at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, the state capital, is not expected to act favorably on any of the bills.

No Knives In New York City

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Senate passed without dissent Friday a bill that would impose a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine for anyone found guilty of carrying a knife in a public place in New York City.

Persons who use knives in their profession or who can prove they were using a knife for hunting, trapping or fishing would be exempted from the bill's provisions.

The measure, which was sent to the Assembly, had been recommended by City Comptroller Mario A. Procaccino.

Color TV Not Health Hazard

The Michigan Department of Public Health reports that the color television x-ray scare is again sweeping the country. The Department says that the scare is completely unfounded.

In November, 1959, the National Committee on Radiation Protection published a recommendation to limit the exposure rate for radiation emitted by home television receivers. The limit of 0.5 milliroentgens per hour at any readily accessible point, 5 centimeters (2 inches) from the surface of the set, was established as a reasonable and practical limit which all TV makers could easily attain. This limit is not a danger level; it is simply a guideline which is far below any level which could be expected to affect the general public in any way.

The x-rays produced by components of TV sets are not comparable to medical x-rays. They are much weaker; so much weaker in fact that they are unmeasurable at normal viewing distances. In addition, the area and direction of most of the radiations detected are toward the sides or bottom of the set and would not affect the viewer.

The recommended limit was established to insure that television receivers will not contribute significantly to the population radiation dose. Normal viewing of color TV is not dangerous even though the x-ray dose rate from a specific set may be several times greater than the recommended standard. The real significance of recent surveys is that the great majority of all sets studied were well below the recommended limit. Those which do not meet the standard should not be considered a health hazard. "People just do not become sick or genetically affected by such low energy at such low levels," the Department states.

The Sho-Nicks, with Jiggs Shomin rolling a 242 game in a final 740-710 victory, defeated the Koolers two games to one Friday night to win the Sunday Moonlighters mixed couples bowling championship at the Bowl-A-Rama.

The Sho-Nicks won the first game of the best-of-three games rolloff by eight pins and the Koolers took the second game by nine pins. Both teams scored over 2,000 pins in the close match.

Members of the Sho-Nicks are Jiggs and Skip Shomin and Nick and Terry Gersich. John and Sharon Erickson and Dave and Donna Andrews form the Koolers. Shomin's 584 series was high for the night, followed by Dave Andrews with 574 and John Erickson with 571. Terry Gersich had 475 to lead the women.

Milliken Praises Youth's Dissent

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Gov. William Milliken today praised youth's dissent from "the sham of our society" but warned against fanatic attempts that sacrifice principle for power.

"Freedom to dissent cannot survive in any contest — academic or otherwise — if a reasonable majority falls under the tyranny of an unreasonable minority," the governor said.

Milliken's remarks were included in a speech prepared for delivery at Western Michigan University commencement exercises.

Young people today have adopted equality and justice as their goals and brotherhood as their way of life, the governor said. "In this respect," he encouraged to pursue these goals.

But, he said, "the idealism of some young radicals, their impatience to right society's wrongs, their righteous indignation over poverty, racism and inequality, is often marred by a fanaticism and rigidity that violates the whole concept of freedom."

Freedom is foremost among principles to pursue, Milliken said. "The freedom to dissent... not only from the majority view but to dissent from the minority view as well."

"History is replete with bright new schemes that promised national and international salvation, if only these schemes would be universally embraced and rigidly executed," he said. "Those schemes, often imposed by a fanatic minority upon a passive majority, have led to war, to totalitarianism and to disaster."

Majority Rule
"No adequate substitute has yet been found for the rule of the majority," Milliken added. The governor told graduates they "face more desperately pressing problems than any generation before you: The continuing threat of nuclear war—a threat guaranteed by the arms race, the shame of our ghettos, the pollution of our air and water, the ruin of our natural resources and, above all, the continuing fires of racial hatred. State Planning Two Road Jobs

Two minor road improvement projects are scheduled for the Upper Peninsula, the State Highway Department reports.

Bids will be received in Lansing on May 7 for construction of a bridge on County Road 577 over the Sturgeon River near Vulcan in Dickinson County; and about one-third mile of grading, drainage and blacktop on US-141 at the Paint River in Iron County.

Completion date on the first job is Nov. 1, 1969, and June 30, 1970 for the second.

Briefly Told

Cub Pack 415 will meet Monday, April 21 at 7:00 p. m. in the Webster School gymnasium.

Robert Contanteneau, DAV Field Service Officer for the U. P. will be at the Civic Center April 21, from 1:30 to 3 p. m. to interview veterans.

Malicious destruction to Bethany Lutheran Church, Perkins, is under investigation by State Police. Rev. Peter Laaninen reported a window in the church was broken and the church grounds littered with beer cans and bottles.

State Police issued traffic citations Friday to Edward DeFord Jr., Wilson, speeding; Jerome McCullough, Harris, no operator's license and Larry Maynor, Powers, no operator's license.

Buy and Sell The Classified Way has been invited to head the list of notables for the joint Sault ceremony. Others include the eight governors, 16 U. S. senators and numerous congressional representatives from the eight Great Lakes States.

Top military brass will include representatives of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, which operates the Sault Locks complex. Business will be represented by Walker Cislir, chairman of the Board of the Detroit Edison Co., general chairman of the joint celebration in the Sault and also head of Operation Action-U. P., a Michigan business group devoted to helping the economy of the state's Upper Peninsula. Leading the industrial contingent will be Admiral James A. Hirschfield, president of the Lake Carriers' Association of Cleveland, and honorary chairman of the joint dedication-anniversary celebration.

Heading the list of invited Canadian officials are Premier Jean Jacques Bertrand of Quebec and other high provincial officials. They will be joined by an Ontario Sault delegation headed by Mayor John R. Rhodes; John Bouchard, superintendent engineer for the St. Lawrence Seaway in the Canadian Sault; and Capt. Frank Manzzutti, head of the Yank-canuck Steamship Co.

Three times postponed for various reasons, the joint ceremony here will get underway at 11 a. m. EST beside the Poe Lock wall and will continue for about 90 minutes. During this time the first of six Great Lakes freighters will begin passing through the new lock as a part of the dedication ceremonies.

An international parade and entertainment in Sault Locks Park will precede the dedication ceremonies.

District 3 Forests Will Offer 30,500 Cord Sale

This spring 30,500 cords of timber — primarily pulpwood, will be offered for sale on the state forest land in Conservation District III in the mid-Upper Peninsula. This volume will be offered in 32 separate blocks and will represent a minimum stumpage value of $103,340.

Four blocks were offered and sold on the Michigan Forest on April 3.

Six blocks on the Menominee Forest will be offered on April 23, with 3,392 cords with an estimated stumpage value of $10,874.

On April 29, eight blocks of timber will be offered on the Michigan Forest, comprising 7,163 cords of wood with an estimated minimum stumpage value of $16,814.

In May, the Escanaba River Forest will offer 9 blocks of timber containing 13,643 cords with a stumpage value of $39,535. One of the nine blocks should be particularly attractive to the bigger operators as it contains an estimated 7,750 cords and an estimated stumpage value of $20,606. Also to be offered in May are 5 blocks of timber on the Bay de Noc Forest comprising 5,013 cords and $10,828 in value.

This total volume represents three-fifths of the forests' usual annual cut. There are many state timber permits in effect

Timber sale receipts from state forests in the Upper Peninsula amounted to $56,918 for March. These forest products came from 176 cutting permits across the U. P. Foresters issued 22 new timber permits that covered 919 acres with an estimated value of $6,017.

The Baraga District reported $21,304 in receipts, the Escanaba District $19,522 and the Newberry District $16,192.

State foresters report that the timber market is excellent across the Peninsula, and that 42 blocks of timber will be offered at public auction at department field stations in the Upper Peninsula in the next 4 or 5 weeks. The proposed sales will involve 52,000 cords of pulpwood and 1,396,000 feet of sawlogs at an estimated value of $160,000.

Dr. Rinehart Reports:

League Advised Of College Goals

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president, Bay de Noc Community College, discussed various aspects of the college at a membership meeting of the Escanaba League of Women Voters this week.

The primary purpose of the college, Dr. Rinehart said, is to make education of college level available to all persons. All types of courses, including practical nursing, drafting and secretarial training, are taught at the college level.

Discussing the elements basic to the concept of a community college, Dr. Rinehart said the college is open to all high school graduates or its equivalent, and to persons from all segments of society. The tuition of the college has been kept purposely at a minimum so that every student and adult can attend.

Flexible Program

Another important element of a community college, he said, is flexibility of curricula. The student who enters with plans for a baccalaureate degree can shift to an occupational program if he finds that his talents lie in this direction. On the other hand, a student in an occupational program who discovers that he has academic interests can pursue them if he wishes.

The college also has cultural responsibilities to the community, Dr. Rinehart said. The college works closely with other community institutions and individuals. The Bay de Noc Players is a good example of this cooperation.

Although Bay de Noc Community College was established primarily to serve the educational needs of Delta County residents, its service area has been expanded by the state to include students from Menominee and Schoolcraft counties and ultimately from Dickinson County. These students pay a higher tuition rate. The Practical Nursing Program serves a larger area because of its specialized nature.

The college uses tests administered to high school seniors to study the student to learn his goals and to help the college plan its programs. Students are assigned to faculty advisors who help them plan their courses of study. Because classes are small (15 to 25) there can be a good working relationship between the student and teacher, Dr. Rinehart said.

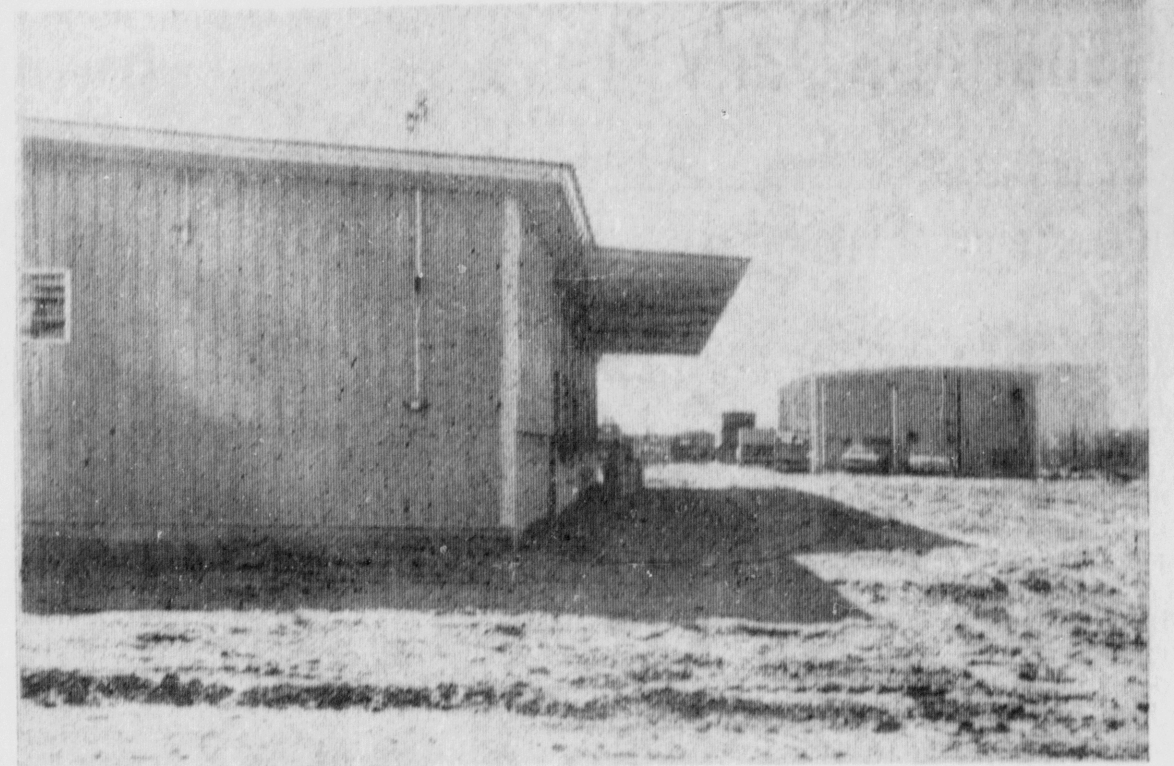

Iron Mountain Campus?

Dr. Rinehart also reflected on the future of the college. He said the campus master plan is finished, and construction of the first building, a science-technical laboratory, is underway. The enrollment projections indicate that by 1980 there could be an enrollment of 1,200 students or more depending on the service area.

At that time there may be a campus in Iron Mountain or even a mobile unit traveling back and forth.

He pointed out that the 2½ mills voted by the residents of Delta County should be adequate local funds along with tuition and federal and state aid for the building program and operational expenses. The millage was passed for an unlimited number of years.

The League has been making a study and evaluation of the organization, financing, and future development of the college.

CW TRANSPORT'S new trucking office and terminal building, showing the loading dock, with the garage in the background, is now in use at 2101 N. 19th St. after transfer of operations from 511 Ludington St. That building is being razed to clear the site for a senior citizens housing project. Helen and Grover Lewis purchased the first building there in 1930 to establish the L & L Trucking Service, and built the present terminal in 1939. They sold the business but not the terminal property to Olson Transportation in 1958 and have rented to Olson and CW over the years. (Daily Press Photo)

Market Looking For Peace Sign

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market spent most of the past week drifting in a fairly narrow range—except for one session in which it took a sharp loss—after the previous week's Vietnam peace-hope rally failed to follow through.

Some analysts had hoped the peace reports which fueled the market to a good gain the week before would continue to stimulate trading activity.

"But no significant peace news broke over the weekend," Larry Wachtel, a Bache & Co. vice president, said, "and the market just sort of drifted. When the North Korean incident came along, it moved into this vacuum and sent the market skidding."

The incident Wachtel referred to was North Korea's shooting down of a U.S. Navy plane with 31 men aboard over the Sea of Japan. Investor concern over the possible consequences that could result from the incident sent the market skidding, brokers said, and the Dow Jones industrial average which had been off fractionally Monday and Tuesday lost 8.45 points in Wednesday's session.

Investor fears, however, were eased Thursday by administration indications that it would deal with the matter through diplomatic action rather than military retaliation, and the Dow posted tiny gains in the final two sessions. Its total loss for the week was 8.64 as it closed at 924.82, compared with a gain of 6.16 in the previous week.

Wachtel said conditions "basically stifling investor enthusiasm continued to be a lack of any solid news on peace in Vietnam and a constant concern over fiscal and monetary restraint."

Investor concern with these issues are "giving the market a renewed attack of schizophrenia," according to Wright Advisory Reports.

Fireworks Permit Now Available

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police have advised local units of government that forms for applications and permits for public fireworks displays and storage may be obtained at any State Police post. The cities, villages and townships now are the only units of government which may issue permits for fireworks display or storage.

Taxing Changes

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey proposes that the new 5-man Delta County Board of Supervisors establish a county tax assessing department which would serve all the taxing units in the county.

At present the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone have their city tax assessors and the supervisor in each of the rural townships is the assessing officer for them.

State law requires that each county in Michigan have a tax department and Delta's has been operating for several years, but it has no legal powers to assess taxes; its function is to assist the assessing officers who do have the authority to assess taxes, the city assessors and the township supervisors.

What Harvey is calling for, then, is legislative reform of the state's taxing structure, and not something that the Delta County Board of Supervisors could accomplish without state authority.

Delta County and most of the other counties in Michigan have been moving slowly toward the kind of consolidation that Harvey suggests for years, but the present prospect is that it will take more years to accomplish its legalizing.

There is legislation proposed again in the current session of the Michigan Legislature to authorize it, but its fate is uncertain. There are powerful political forces opposing this basic change in local government. The townships cannot be expected to favor it and they are still powerful at Lansing, although this influence has been eroded by the population rush to the cities, except where suburbia has engulfed a township and given it population muscle.

In Delta County the townships will be reluctant to relinquish the assessing authority of the supervisor to a County Tax Department. "It's one more loss of local control of government," a supervisor said. He believes that the proposed change dehumanizes government.

He means that the township supervisor knows how hard it is for the Widow Jones to get along and that he adjusts things a little so her taxes won't be too burdensome. (The ability to pay has been an influential factor for a long time in rural assessing.)

This is the sort of thing that prompts city people to suspect that rural assessing isn't as impersonal as the kind they're subjected to. This is the historic square-off of the city and the country, but the two are blending and changing and their old beliefs about taxes may not be valid today.

Any city thought that the rural people don't pay taxes on true value the way city people do isn't true any more. The Delta County Tax Department has been working with the townships for years, helping them get their tax houses in order, and it has now completed a similar review in Gladstone. The City of Escanaba is next in line and its taxpayers won't be very happy about an inspection because, judging by results elsewhere, it will show inequities in assessments and the correcting of them will mean that some people's taxes will be raised. (Taxes almost never go down.)

Equalization is the prime function of the County Tax Department; that is, seeing to it that the same set of rules and values are applied generally in assessing. A house assessed in Brampton should appear on the tax assessment roll for one half of its true cash value and so should a house in Ford River, or Escanaba or Rapid River.

Assessing becomes more difficult and more technical and calls increasingly for professional handling. This trend works to retire the elected township supervisor, but if it finally happens there is no prospect whatever that there will be any economy. It will certainly cost more to replace him with a trained appraiser than to keep him on the job and the problem of tax assessment review hearings also presents itself. They cannot be centralized like the tax valuation process without denying taxpayers an effective opportunity to protest mistreatment.

Citizen interest in taxes should be encouraged as a means of keeping them fair and within bounds. Government tends forever to increase them unless strongly restrained. At the present time there's a tax revolt on in Minnesota on the Mesabi Range and it is being led by former legislators and not crackpots and it suggests seriously that taxes be paid into an escrow account while the effort to reduce them proceeds.

England Permits Abortion; Considers Mercy Killings

By TOM CULLEN

LONDON—(NEA)—Britain's brave, new, permissive society has abolished hanging as the penalty for murder. It has legalized abortion and homosexuality between consenting adults. Looking for new fields to conquer, British liberals have now turned their attention to euthanasia, or mercy killing.

The permissive-minded hold that euthanasia, which is defined as "the painless putting to death of persons suffering from incurable diseases," should be available to all who need it under Britain's socialized medicine.

A bill to this effect was recently debated in the House of Lords, where it was defeated by a 3-to-2 majority. The bill made it lawful to administer euthanasia to a patient so long as he requested it and two doctors, one of whom a consultant, had certified him to be suffering from an incurable condition.

In throwing the bill out, members of the House of Lords argued that it was immoral, impractical, and that, in effect, it provided for suicide by proxy.

However, the British Euthanasia Society is retailoring its bill to meet objections and has announced its intention to introduce it again in Parliament.

British euthanasians admit that they will have their work cut out to convince practicing Christians, to whom all forms of life are sacred and rest in God's hands.

Voluntary euthanasia, the clergyman argues, is the slippery slope which could lead to a Nazi-style elimination of those whom a future society might judge as undesirable.

Nonsense, argue the proponents of mercy killing. That slope only begins when society decides to kill people against their own will.

Another argument advanced against euthanasia is that it would place doctors in an intolerable position. "Every time the doctor entered the room, the patient would wonder, 'Is this man about to kill me?'" Lord Brock, a past president of the Royal College of Surgeons, pointed out in the House of Lords.

Legalized euthanasia would also encourage the doctor "to play at being God, a dangerous game," Lord Brock added.

But doctors already "play at being God" by prolonging life, the euthanasians claim. In the modern world the doctor is continually interfering with nature. Besides, many doctors already administer euthanasia.

In a sample poll of 1,000 British doctors taken in 1965, three-quarters agreed that it was right "to help their patients over the last hurdle, even if it involves some curtailment of life." In this same poll, 36 per cent declared that if voluntary euthanasia were made legal, they were prepared to administer it.

The British Euthanasia Society, which is over 30 years old, is headed by Lord Listowel, who is the powerful chairman of committees in the House of Lords, and its members include the Bishop of Birmingham, the Duke of Wellington and actor Jack Hawkins.

It has made two previous attempts, in 1936 and in 1950, to get euthanasia legislation on the books, but failed. However, the subject has never excited so much discussion as at present.

To many the way was paved for the present debate by the 1961 Suicide Act, which made it no longer a felony to attempt to take one's life.

Thus, the Voluntary Euthanasia Bill is merely an extension of licensed suicide.

The debate on euthanasia here has widened to include other disquieting issues. Heart transplants and kidney machines have already placed life-or-death powers in the physician's hands, the advocates of mercy killing argue. In what way do the moral problems raised by euthanasia differ from those the doctor already faces?

"If you do not have enough kidney machines to go around, to whom do you give priority?" Lord Ritchie-Calder asked in the recent House of Lords debate. "To a Member of Parliament, or a Nobel Prize winner, because he is old and eminent?"

"Suppose there is a youngster of 15 who needs the machine. We do not know whether he is going to be a juvenile delinquent or is a potential criminal, but he might be a Nobel Prize winner."

Draftees Given Big Send-Off

SAGINAW (AP)—This week for the first time since the long-gone days of World War II, Saginaw Army draftees got a civic send-off.

And the sponsors vow to keep it up every month "showing our boys we care."

Fifty-seven answered Uncle Sam's "greetings" this week. Gathering bright and early at Saginaw's Salvation Army gymnasium, they were met by a bevy of well-wishers.

These included 21 girls from Arthur Hill and St. Stephen High schools. Members of the Youth Red Cross, the girls brought candy and friendly smiles.

Also on hand was the freshman band from Bridgeport High School, which brightened a drab morning with patriotic tunes.

Principal organizers of the send-off were Stuart D. Gross, director of college relations at Saginaw Valley College, and Mrs. Joseph M. Fordney, director of Saginaw's Youth Red Cross.

"It's about time somebody showed they care," Gross said. "Usually all you hear about is how somebody's trying to evade the draft."

"It makes it a little easier," said one draftee, to which another added: "This is real nice."

North had quite a problem with his first bid. He could give his partner a jump raise in diamonds, he could cue bid in hearts, or he could show his lackluster spade suit. North solved the problem by bidding one spade and keeping cue bids and diamond raises for the future.

East really should have jumped to three or four hearts but East was one of those rubber bridge players who distrust their partner's overcalls. Anyway, it was a free-wheeling sort of game and East was sure the bidding would continue.

East was slightly disappointed when South and West passed and it was up to North to make a second bid. Once more, North could afford a jump raise in diamonds but by this time North was sure that if he showed real strength his non-vulnerable opponents would refuse to give up and North wanted to get doubled at the lowest possible level in diamonds so North merely went to three diamonds.

East continued his slow bidding with a mere three hearts, but this time West found his voice and went to four. North continued with his plan and called five diamonds and when it got back to West, there was a double.

North had achieved his objective. It was up to South to play the hand.

South was pretty sure that West held the club ace so South started his campaign by trying for a partial strip play. He took two rounds of trumps; cashed two spades; ruffed a spade; ruffed his last heart; led a club and played low from his hand. West had to play his ace of clubs and South's worries were over.

Ann Landers

Children Stay Away From Blind Father

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me why, out of a family of three boys and three girls (all middle age and with nice families of their own), not one of them can find one hour a month to visit an 80-year-old father who is nearly blind and can't hear very well. The poor man has bad arthritis and he hasn't been out of the house since his wife's funeral three and a half years ago.

Every year at Christmas the children send beautiful plants and expensive flannel bathrobes. When his birthday rolls around, they send lovely cards saying, "I hope you have a nice day." Why on earth don't they show up in person and help make the day a nice one?

I can see it now—these six knuckleheaded kids will gather at their father's funeral, wring their hands, dab at their eyes and tell each other they had no idea the end was near.

I know this situation is not unique, Ann. There are thousands of people all over the world who lead their own comfortable lives and never give a thought to an old mother or father. Why do they have to wait until death comes and it's too late? If you can answer this you're a smart lady.—Jaundiced Eye

Dear Eye: Why? Because they are selfish and inconsiderate and shortsighted. It's as simple as that.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I ran across an article called "Profile of Neurotic Depression." I was horrified to discover that the symptoms sound very much like what my mother is going through. The article said these people need treatment.

I didn't realize my mother was sick and now I feel like a heel because I've been impatient and snappy with her. How can I get her to go to a doctor without hurting her pride? Even though I don't show it at times, I love my mother very much and I'd hate to have something happen to her.

Don't suggest a minister because we are not religious people and she wouldn't go. I might add, my parents argue a great deal. Theirs is not a happy marriage. What should I do?—Santa Fe, N. M.

Dear Santa: If you can find the article it might be a good idea to hand it to her without comment—in a casual manner. If you cannot locate the article, mention it to your mother, with emphasis on the new medication which has done wonders for women over 40. I suspect she is having menopausal problems which, added to the problems of a shaky marriage, are enough to throw anybody into a neurotic depression.

Dear Ann: I'm dating an attractive man—object, matrimony. His sister (maiden lady) is lovely but she's a complete introvert and impossible to entertain. He has hinted that he'd like me to invite her to spend the Memorial Day holiday with me. I'm afraid I'd be wrung out after 24 hours. But I don't want to hurt my chances. What is the wise thing to do?—Ga.

Dear Ga.: Say no and don't worry about your chances. If he wants to marry you he will. If he doesn't, he won't change his mind because you were nice to his sister.

Do you feel ill at ease about it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Sow Marijuana At Civic Plaza

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Assistant City Manager Dale Carter found weeds growing in front of the new civic plaza, and promptly called police.

The weeds were growing everywhere, and when officers arrived they found Carter and a custodian on their hands and knees pulling them up.

The weeds were wild marijuana.

The plants' identity was discovered by a teen-ager who works part-time for the city as part of a juvenile court sentence—for possession of marijuana.

Also present were Adele L'Huillier, Steve Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. James L'Huillier and son, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Beauchamp, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nelson, all of Marquette, Mr. and Mrs. Antone Cota, Mr. and Mrs. John Britton and family of Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin of Bark River and Miss Judy Guennette of Escanaba.

A Soft Touch

With fashion emphasis on rings this year, hand care is essential. A good once-a-week lightening and softening treatment is a 10-minute soaking in a mixture of lemon juice and baby oil. Because the baby oil benefits your nails and cuticles, too, this treatment is best done before your manicure.

Mrs. Smith, 101, Receives First Security Check

SAGINAW (AP) — Although she'd never worked, Mrs. Emma H. Smith got a Social Security check this week — her first and at the age of 101.

What's more she received it at her home — where it always has been — on the corner of Saginaw's Oakley and Union streets. The old home stands behind a newer one.

"My land!" was Mrs. Smith's comment as Joseph H. Ritzheim, field representative for the Saginaw Social Security office, delivered a $120 check.

The Social Security Act was changed in 1966, authorizing aid at age 72 to anyone born before 1896, even though they never worked in a job covered by Social Security.

Mrs. Smith was widowed in 1935. A cigar store operator and cigar manufacturer, her husband never was covered by Social Security.

Nile Green

The bridal aides were attired in Nile green Grecian styled chiffon gowns with Venice lace trim on the bodices and bell-sleeves. They carried clusters of white Maguerite daisies.

The junior bridesmaids wore mint green princess style crepe gowns with matching headpieces. They carried baskets of Marguerite daisies.

Organza, Lace

The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of organza over taffeta styled with short lace sleeves. The skirt and chapel train were also trimmed with lace.

A pearl and crystal tiara secured her triple tiered elbow length veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations, mums and yellow roses.

Serving as bestman was William Plath of Escanaba and groomsmen were Jim McDonough and Larry Deiter of Escanaba. Performing ushering duties were Pat McDonough of Chicago and Lambert Frappier of Pennsylvania.

Mothers' Attire

The mother of the bride chose a two piece off-white knit dress with red accessories for her daughter's wedding and she was presented a red cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. McDonough wore a beige and brown two piece knit suit with beige and brown accessories and she pinned a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The reception is being held from 4 to 8 p.m. today at the Mead Rod and Gun Club with a dance following. After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside in Chicago.

Both are 1965 graduates of Escanaba Area High School and the bride is also a graduate of the Escanaba Beauty Academy.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Sharon Bojinov to Charles Londo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Londo of 1512 S. 11th St., has been announced. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Harrison Beale of 30920 St. Onge Circle, Warren, Mich. and the late William Bojinov. Miss Bojinov is a sophomore at Michigan State University and is affiliated with Phi Mu sorority. Her fiancé is a senior at MSU and is affiliated with Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity. The wedding will take place Aug. 23 in Warren, Mich.

MR. AND MRS. John W. Norby of 437 Warbler Lane, Madison, Wis., formerly of Escanaba and Gladstone, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kristine L. to Arthur B. Henrich, son of Mrs. Edith Henrich, 2310 Hoard St. and the late Arthur Henrich. The couple will be married Sept. 6 at the Messiah Lutheran Church. Miss Norby is employed at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge and her fiancé is employed at Bancroft Dairy.

Spalding 4-H'ers Hold Annual Style Revue

The Spalding Township Handy Helpers 4-H Club held its annual style revue recently. General chairman of the event was Elizabeth Prestay and she was assisted by Monica Thonne, invitations; Debbie Kell and Helen Prestay, luncheon; Mary Wheeler and Joyce Gorzinski, decorations; Joyce Gorzinski and Helen Prestay, welcoming committee; Debbie Kell, Style Revue write-up; Monica Thonne, clean up; and Peggy Weissert, recreation.

The theme of the style revue was, "Crimson and Clover." Joe Prestay helped the girls, prepare the properties and decorations. Guests of the club for the occasion were the Sisters of Notre Dame Convent at Spalding; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Walcutt, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Butler and Mary Kell of Gladstone; and parents and friends of the members.

The girls modeled their clothing project garments and gave three demonstrations. Debbie Kell and Elizabeth Prestay gave a demonstration on Cardamon Bread (Finnish Pulla), Monica Thonne and Elizabeth Prestay did a demonstration on basic Yeast Roll Dough and its versatility. They made a Grecian Feast Loaf, Apricot Crescent and four different varieties of dinner rolls.

After the style revue and demonstrations, the girls served a buffet type dinner. Keith and Kenneth Kirschner were escorts for the girls. Mrs. Earl Kell is the local leader with Debbie Kell, Mary Wheeler and Elizabeth Prestay as junior leaders.

New Officers Installed At Ford River PTA

The Ford River PTA met Wednesday evening at the school with Mrs. Al Troutt presiding in the absence of Mrs. Beverly Moraco. Classroom visitation was held at 7:30 p.m.

It was decided that the meeting night would be changed to the third Tuesday of the month beginning in September. Parents were also reminded of the Nicolò Marionette show, "Jack and the Beanstalk," to be presented on May 3.

The following new officers were installed at the meeting by Mrs. Leo Niquette: Al Troutt, president; Mrs. James Louquist, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Snyder, vice president; Mrs. Mary Wellman, Mrs. Fred Bowden and Mrs. Al Troutt, council delegates and alternates. Student teacher Dennis Malnor of Calumet was also introduced.

Dr. Donald Fitch spoke on the Bicycle Safety Program to be held Sunday, April 27 from 1 to 4 p.m. at Ludington Park. Dr. Fitch also presented the film, "Parent to the Child About Sex," and a question and answer session followed.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Gordon Herbst, Mrs. Fred Bowden, Mrs. Paul Corcoran, Mrs. Robert Judson, Mrs. John Sorby and Mrs. Stuart Monson.

MSU Honors Golden Agers

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University's department of home economics today honored four women who graduated more than 50 years ago from that MSU curriculum.

They were Martha Pratt of Lansing and Mrs. C. G. Callard of East Lansing, who both graduated in 1919; Mrs. C. R. Oviatt of East Lansing, who graduated in 1916; and her sister, Mrs. Gladys Miller of Eaton Rapids, who left MSU in 1918.

The women were honored at the 20th annual Home Economics Alumni Reunion on the MSU campus.

Mother Of Year Drives Tractor

DETROIT (AP) — Although she likes to knit and crochet, Michigan's 1969 Mother of the Year can sometimes be seen operating a tractor on her 500-acre farm at Constantine, near the Indiana border.

Mrs. Myrtle Sherck Oxender, 61-year-old mother of five and grandmother of 12, was named the state's top mother Monday during a luncheon at Northland Center in Detroit. She will go to Los Angeles where the national top mother will be chosen April 29.

"Driving a tractor isn't the kind of work mother does all the time," said one of her daughters-in-law. "But if it has to be done, she'll do it, she's always willing."

She and her husband Harry operate the farm, which used to have beef cattle and pigs until their four sons left.

Fertilizer Only Minor Pollutant: MSU Scientist

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Michigan State University soil scientist has discounted commercial fertilizers as a prime cause of pollution in lakes and streams.

Writing in the current issue of Agricultural Nitrogen News, Dr. L.S. Robertson denies allegations that increased use of fertilizers results in washing of excess chemicals into streams and lakes, increasing nitrogen and phosphorus contents in the waters and causing pollution-level plant growth.

"Research shows that under high rainfall or irrigation conditions, fertilizer phosphorus in the soil moves a maximum of only five centimeters per year," Robertson says.

"In other words, 60 years would be required for the phosphorus to move a distance of only 10 feet in the soil."

Robertson says the possibility of phosphorus and nitrogen contaminating ground water or flowing out of the treated soil through tile drains is also minor.

Brief PTA On Summer Plans

Central PTA will be briefed on summer recreation and community school programs when Don Potenhauer, recreation director, and Robert Richards, community school director, speak to the membership Monday at 8 p.m. at the James T. Jones School.

Mothers of Mrs. Henning Bjork's fifth grade students will serve refreshments at the close of the meeting.

A meeting of the Bicycle Safety group will precede the PTA meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Trout Fishing Access Not Changed In State

Trout fishermen eagerly awaiting opening day Saturday should encounter no problems in using the same spots they've fished for years, according to a Wayne State University law professor.

Prof. Richard W. Bartke rejects fears of conservationists and outdoorsmen that an opinion signed by State Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black would close up to 95 per cent of the state's trout streams to the public.

The confusion-causing comment appears in an opinion released last Sept. 25, written by Justice Black on a case dealing with whether the Conservation Department (now the Natural Resources Department) legally could lower the level of the Martiny Lakes Project in Mecosta County.

One section states that the Inland Lake Level Act of 1961 employs the term "navigable streams" in the sense of "streams adapted in their natural condition to any valuable boat or vessel navigation."

This prompted Dr. Ralph A. MacMullan, Natural Resources Department director, to express fear that the opinion would result in wholesale closing of streams to the public by property owners. He and others said the comment seemed to replace the traditional rule of thumb that any stream ever capable of floating logs was "navigable" and open to the public for recreational activities.

Not so, responded Justice Black in a letter to MacMullan: "It decided no new public right and no new private right in any stream."

Prof. Bartke agrees. "This case doesn't warrant the outcry," says the WSU professor who teaches property law. He engaged in water rights cases while in private practice in Seattle before coming to Wayne State in 1967.

"Justice Black was trying to specifically avoid this problem," says Bartke, noting that further in the same opinion "he puts forth at least two tests of navigability, drawing a distinction between what is navigable for boats and what is floatable for logs."

Justice Black states in the opinion, "That there is a recognized distinction between the status of small streams which by the common law belong to the public for the limited purposes of flotation and fishing, and that of larger streams which are navigable 'in the more enlarged meaning of the term,' admits now of no doubt."

Prof. Bartke cites a 1943 Michigan case, to which Justice Black also refers in the opinion, in which the Supreme Court ordered landowners to remove barricades they had erected on a branch of the Pere Marquette in an effort to close public access to a section of the stream.

The case held that "small trout streams on private property which have not been used by the public for logging or for boating and private lakes and ponds owned by abutting property owners are under complete control of the riparian owner (owner of the shoreline land)."

More importantly, however, the same 1943 case adopted the position of a 1926 Michigan case, holding that floatability (of logs) determined the public character of a stream and affixed therein the public right of fishing.

And as long ago as 1787, the Wayne State professor notes, "the Northwest Ordinance made public all streams leading to the Mississippi or the St. Lawrence that were navigable by canoe or flat-bottom boat."

If the problem of open streams for the public is indeed as severe as some believe, Bartke doubts that simple legislative action would cure it. The term "navigability" acquires too many connotations under varying sets of circumstances to be defined conclusively in one all-encompassing bill, he says.

The problems stem in part from riparian rights of landowners, in part from the fact that one must designate for what purposes one is trying to define navigability, and a host of other peculiarities that have evolved through the years in the common law regarding water rights.

If a landowner were to try closing a stream based on the Mecosta County case, Bartke says fishermen who have used the same spot for years still might retain that right. Their power to do so would come from "prescriptive rights," whereby rights are established through long use. In other words, a sort of fishermen's "squatters' rights."

Bartke acknowledges that if a court test case ruled that the Mecosta County opinion did indeed close many of Michigan's trout streams, it would be like opening Pandora's box. In such a case, to keep the streams open, the state then would have to condemn easements in the streams and buy them through its power of eminent domain, the Wayne State professor says.

However, he regards this as only a slight possibility and doubts that the matter will reach such a desperate stage. His advice to fishermen: Start tying your trout flies!

Governor Urges Safety Programs To Consolidate

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken Friday ordered a consolidation of the state's highway safety activities, aimed at "an efficient, united and vigorous attack" on traffic accidents.

Milliken transferred the Office of Highway Safety PDII— from the executive office to the Department of State Police and ordered that staff combined with the Michigan State Safety Commission.

The governor urged that the commission, chaired by Secretary of State James Hare, act in an advisory capacity for the Safety Planning Office.

"When the State Safety Commission was created some 20 years ago to coordinate the state's traffic safety programs, it involved the four state agencies with related official responsibilities—State Police, Education, state and highway," Milliken said.

"Under the new federal standards, other state and local government areas, as well as private interests, are seriously involved and should be brought into the decision-making process," he explained.

Milliken's order specifies that the head of the safety planning office would continue to act as his representative in dealings with the federal government under the federal highway safety act of 1966.

Mrs. Mary LaTulip is a patient in the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

John C. Calhoun was the only man ever to resign from the office of U.S. vice-president.

Americans Lose 4 Tanks To VC

SAIGON (AP) — American armored units killed 100 North Vietnamese in two battles but lost at least four tanks and seven other armored vehicles, military spokesmen said today.

A day-long battle Friday 5 miles northwest of Saigon cost the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment four tanks—two new 16-ton Sheridans and two 50-ton M48 tanks—plus seven killed and 28 wounded, field reports said.

Later Friday night, three armored personnel carriers were destroyed by fire and four other tracked vehicles were badly damaged when North Vietnamese sappers attacked a "wagon train" circle of tanks and personnel carriers three miles southeast of the demilitarized zone.

Despite the loss of the tanks in the first battle, armored cavalry officers called it a victory. They said 82 enemy bodies were found after the battle.

"It was a good lesson for Charlie. He learned he can't mess around with the Sheridans and get away with it," said Col. Jimmie Leach of Hampton, N.C., commander of the 11th Regiment.

The fighting erupted when units of the regiment ran into a North Vietnamese ambush in Tay Ninh province. The Sheridan tanks, artillery and helicopter gunships pounded the enemy for most of the day.

Maj. John Bronson of Rochelle, Ga., a squadron commander, said the first rocket grenade was fired prematurely by the North Vietnamese attackers "and that enabled us to get them before they could carry out the rest of the ambush."

Two persons were injured, neither seriously, when the car in which they were passengers struck a parked auto in the 600 block, Ludington St. at 10:25 a. m. Friday, city police report.

They are Louis VanElsacker, 3, and Bonnie VanElsacker, 20 of Northland, and the driver was Lois Mae Phillips of Northland. The parked auto was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Kaminien.

William E. Mulhaupt, 19, of Manistique Rte. 1, was ordered by Escanaba police to appear in Delta District court to answer to a charge of being a minor in possession of beer and whiskey. Officers halted him for reckless driving at Stephenson and Ludington at 1:39 a. m. today and reported finding intoxicants in his car.

Escanaba police have issued traffic court notices to Thomas H. Mannebach Jr., 1311 3rd Ave. S., Roy W. Schmit, Escanaba Rte. 1, Gerald T. LeClaire, 405 S. 19th St., Terrance D. Sagataw, Wilson Rte. 1, all for speeding; and to Elizabeth Jetty, Twin Falls, Mich., for improper backing.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Susan Pauline Pederson and William Greene Norton has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Pederson of Minneapolis. The future bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William L. Norton, 203 Terrace Ave., and the late Mr. Norton. Miss Pederson is a University of Minnesota graduate and is employed by the Robbinsdale School District in Minneapolis. Norton graduated from Northern Michigan University and received his MA in business administration from the Wharton Graduate School, University of Pennsylvania. He is a product manager for General Mills, Inc. in Minneapolis. The couple are planning an August 9 wedding.

Tax Allocation Board To Meet

The organizational meeting of the Schoolcraft County Tax Allocation Board will be held Monday at the Court House at 1 p. m.

A chairman will be elected from the appointments announced by Probate Judge John Faketty.

The 1969 Board is composed of Denton Nelson, Manistique Area Schools board of education president; Raymond Kruse, representing the city; William Berger, county-at-large delegate; Walter McClintock, Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District; William Cowman, county treasurer; and Ernest Hoholik, chairman. Finance Committee, county board of supervisors.

Scotland Yard Nabs Americans

LONDON (AP) — An American described as an amiable "country club" type in his 50s with a slight East European accent was being interrogated with his wife Friday night by a Scotland Yard counter-espionage squad.

No charges were filed against the couple and authorities would not disclose their identities or any details of the case. Seniors officials of the U.S. Embassy went to Scotland Yard for discussions with the detectives. British police said they checked with the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation before the raid.

More than 50 detectives headed by Scotland Yard Commander Ferguson Smith closed in on the lavish home in the stockbroker belt of London's southern suburbs where the couple lived with their three children.

In 1961 Smith arrested Morris and Lola Cohen, an American couple who were exposed as Soviet spies and jailed for 20 years.

One published report said the couple presently being questioned may originally have been of German nationality but now had U.S. passports. Another report said the couple returned to the U.S. because of statements made by an East German who had defected to the West.

Neighbors said the couple returned Friday from the United States. They said the police had been watching the house for the past two weeks.

Edison Co. Asks 11 Per Cent Hike

LANSING (AP) — Detroit Edison Co. wound up a week of hearings before the State Public Service Commission Friday asking for a $48 million annual rate increase.

C. F. Ogden, administrative vice president for the utility, said this represented about an 11 per cent hike in electric rates.

Ogden said he could not break down the figure to how it might affect the individual customer. "It depends on how much the commission grants us and how we break it down among our residential and commercial customers—both small businesses and big industries," he said.

Ogden said this is only the second increase asked by Detroit Edison since it was founded in 1906.

Crafts Exhibits Open To Public

Monday is the final day that applications will be accepted from craftsmen for exhibit space at the 10th Annual Upper Peninsula Crafts and Native Industries Exhibition.

The day-long free exhibition will be held Saturday, Apr. 26 at the Manistique High School and is open to the public. Sponsorship of the affair is by the Upper Peninsula Crafts Council, the Manistique Community School and the Manistique Art Club.

Manistique area residents are urged to join craftsmen from all over the peninsula in entering their craft products, said Richard Bonifas, Community School Director.

Categories

Additional information and applications for exhibit space are available from the Community School office in the high school and from Dixner's Office Supply in Manistique.

Two categories of craft work may be displayed: creative crafts, original designs in any

Two candidates filed nominating petitions for election to the Manistique Area Schools board of education Friday. The school election will be held June 9.

Mrs. John Moffat, 235 Range St., and Earl H. LeBrasseur, 318 Range St., presented petitions for the June 9 school election to Mrs. Margaret Waters, secretary of the board.

LeBrasseur is an incumbent candidate while Mrs. Moffat is making her first bid for a seat on the board. Two seats on the board are open. LeBrasseur's and that of Robert Orr who is not seeking reelection because of illness. Both are four year terms.

Houghton Native

Mrs. Moffat is the mother of seven children and has been very active in civic affairs in the community. She was elected a member of the City Charter Commission, is a member of the Executive Committee for Upper Peninsula Child Guidance, and has been involved in Parent - Teacher Association projects.

A native of Houghton, the former Mary Weber attended St. Catherine's College in St. Paul, the University of Michigan Technological University. She and her husband John, a vice president and general manager of the Inland Lime and Stone Co. Plant in Gulliver, have been Manistique residents since 1940.

LeBrasseur is seeking his seventh term on the board of education and is employed as supervisor at the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company.

Active In Scouting

He was born and raised in this area and attended Manistique Schools. He has been active in Scouting and in the promotion of winter sports and recreation in the area. He is Past Exalted Ruler of Elks Lodge 632, and currently serves as chairman of the Senior Citizens Executive Committee.

Bishop Baraga Circle

Plans for the annual dinner party of the Bishop Baraga Circle were made when the group met recently at the home of Mrs. George Tiglas, S. Houghton Ave., with Mrs. John Borko and Mrs. Roland Hoholik assisting hostesses.

Anyone wishing to attend the May 7 dinner at the Surf is asked to contact Mrs. Hoholik by May 6 for reservations.

Mrs. Frances Thomas will take charge of the sale of greeting cards throughout the summer and may be contacted by anyone interested.

Cards were played at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Jack Phillips, Mrs. Lottie Numnick and Mrs. Donald Hoholik were guests.

board of education, LeBrasseur served twice as president of the board and has been a member of the auditing committee.

LeBrasseur and his wife, the former Katherine Hupfer of Manistique, are the parents of five children.

File Until May 12

The final day for filing nominating petitions is Monday, May 12 at 4 p. m. and not May 10, as previously announced. A change in the state election laws regarding the method of counting days between the filing date and election day accounts for the new deadline.

Petitions are available from the school office. A minimum of 25 signatures is required and no person may sign more than two petitions. Petitions must be signed by Mrs. Margaret Waters and may be filed with her or at the school office.

North Central Approves MHS

Manistique High School has been placed on the "approved" list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for the 1968-1969 school year.

For the first time in many years, the school has been approved without any warnings or citations accompanying an approval.

The North Central Association is the largest accrediting group in the nation and works with almost 4,000 high schools, colleges and universities with a total enrollment of more than four million students.

Certain standards in facilities and personnel must be met for approval by the association.

Beekman Speaker At Joint Meeting

The Citizens Advisory Committee to the board of education and the Special Education Advisory Committee of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District will hold a joint meeting Monday, May 5 at the new Lakeside School in Manistique.

Marvin Beekman, director of special education with the Michigan Department of Education, will address both groups at their 7:30 p. m. wedding.

Mrs. Jeanne Larson, Manistique school board member, and Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle serve on the Intermediate District's Advisory group. Rev. Ingmar Levin heads the Citizens Advisory Committee.

The groups are expected to separate later for individual sessions.

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Thursday were Linda Farley, Sandra Walter, Mary Shesterkin, Hildur Nylander and Camille Tufnell.

Discharged were Theodore Johnson, Beatrice Groll, Anna Dupont, Eva Flynn, Rhea Herbert and Kevin Rose.

Births

FARLEY — A baby girl, weighing seven pounds and twelve ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jan Farley on Thursday, April 17, at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Farley is the former Linda Killoran.

Demos Counter With Timetable

LANSING (AP) — Reacting to Republican charges of delay and inaction in the House, majority Democrats have returned the fire and set up a tentative timetable for getting work done.

Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, called Friday for a guiding "impetus" from Republican Gov. William Milliken to work out interparty and interchamber compromises on the basic money issues of public and private schools and recreation projects.

"It's going to take some leadership from the governor in his own party," Ryan said, "not to mention throughout the state."

Ryan added that House members would either have to give up pet resolutions or expect to spend as much as two extra hours a day on the House floor.

Majority Floor Leader George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, meanwhile, said the House would roll back the deadline for committees to study and report out the best or most important of the record 1,865 bills introduced this year.

The deadline, previously set back once to next Friday, likely would be extended again to May 8 for House bills, May 15 or 22 for appropriations bills, Montgomery said.

In addition, House committee chairmen are to review their committee workloads and establish a priority list. Montgomery declined to specify which bills might be given first importance but said, "we'll try to get the major bills out ahead and allow the committees to process the dogs and cats later."

Montgomery forecast a long-range House schedule that would include a 30-day summer break in July. Noting the tenuous 57-53 Democratic majority, Montgomery said "there won't be much opportunity to override the governor's veto." That takes a two-thirds majority vote by both chambers.

White Cane Week Starts April 20

The week of April 20-26 has been proclaimed "White Cane Week" in Michigan by Gov. William G. Milliken.

The week is dedicated to informing citizens of the meaning and purpose of the white cane and what it symbolizes.

A person displaying a white cane is either partially or totally blind. Michigan law provides that the bearer of a white cane has the right of way in traffic.

Lions Clubs have been interested in sight conservation work and aiding those who are blind, furnishing thousands of white canes to persons who need them. For further information about this program, contact the Escanaba, Gladstone, Ford River, Wells, Rock, Bark River or Perkins Lions Clubs.

In Michigan, over 15,000 persons are either partially or totally blind. Many use a white cane.

Students Seek Change:

School Dress Code Revision Suggested

By JANET VERTREES

Girls wear necklaces to school. Why shouldn't boys be allowed to do so if they wish?

This question and others relating to student dress at the Escanaba Area Public High School have been the subject of discussion by the dress code committee for the last few months.

The whole matter started with the announcement that boys were not permitted to wear medallions to school. Many students felt this to be an "infringement" on student rights.

Many long and heated discussions were held. The Student Council decided to form a dress code committee to look further into the controversy. Jack Winters, senior, was appointed committee chairman.

Time For Change?

Revisions to the dress code must be made—and now! That's the opinion of many complaining students.

At closed meetings, outsiders, (non-council members and faculty) were permitted to attend and express their views but, were not active, voting members of the committee. Richard Eagleson, not of the committee, felt that before the committee could come to an accurate decision it needed opinions of the students. He made up and distributed a ballot with the permission of the administration to determine how the majority of the students felt about revising the dress code and if so what the changes should be.

The totals and percentages of these ballots were presented to the Student Council and all the issues were taken to the homerooms to be discussed before voting. The results of the ballots showed that most of the students were definitely interested in some type of a change.

The proposed dress code included:

- Button all shirts up to and including one under the top button; shirt-tails will not be required to be tucked into trousers or skirts; sweatshirts and tee shirts are not permitted.
- Blue denim jeans, without rivets, may be worn if clean; there will be no requirement to wear belts; boys are not to wear shorts or forms thereof.
- Sandals may be worn; socks must be worn unless one is wearing sandals.
- Medallions may be worn anywhere in the building but the shops; sideburns shall be permitted to the bottom of the earlobe; boys' hair must not hang over ears or collars; moustaches and beards are not permitted.

INTERPRETING STYLE is the prerogative of every girl, so long as it meets the dress code of her school. Escanaba Area High School seniors Sue Hardies (left) of Bark River and Sharon Bingman of 907 S. 13th St., Escanaba, model costumes they wear to classes. Majority of the students dress on the conservative side, considering the wide variation of costume that is acceptable in today's society. (Daily Press Photo)

• Pantskirts, pantdresses and culottes may be worn; skirts of any desired length may be worn; girls shall not wear slacks, jeans or shorts.

• Clothing obviously worn too tight is in poor taste and violators will be dealt with according to the penalties prescribed.

• Students are expected to be neat and clean at all times. One of the arguments students have is that if the revised dress code is passed, why should we have to wait until next year to wear this year's trends in clothing? Why, can't the change take immediate effect?

Some Rules Changed
Students say they find the delay the most disturbing part of getting the dress code changed. First, the committee couldn't find time when all of its members could be present; second, once in meeting much time was spent in unorganized discussion.

Finally, ballots were distributed, totals reported, and results were ready to be submitted to the faculty and administration for approval.

More time goes by, and although sections of the code on long sideburns and pantskirts were put into immediate effect, no action has been approved on others. Students may ask, why some parts and not others—and meanwhile they are wondering just which or what code to follow.

On The Sidelines With Mike Utt

Dick Butkus, the All-Pro middle linebacker for the Chicago Bears in the National Football League, is mixing business with pleasure in his trip to the Upper Peninsula. Butkus, on his way to do some fishing in the Copper Country, stopped off in Escanaba Thursday long enough to speak to the seventh and eighth graders of St. Anne's School and their parents at the annual recognition banquet for the St. Anne's grade school basketball team.

Butkus arrived in Escanaba, by car, late Thursday afternoon, but was gracious enough to talk to this writer about the upcoming pro football season, the Chicago Bears, the Super Bowl and make his predictions on the final standings in the pro grid race. It was easy to see why the massive linebacker has made the All-Pro team every year since joining the pro ranks after visiting with him Thursday afternoon. The 6 foot 5 inch, 245 pound Butkus appears to be every bit as rough off the field as he does on.

About Gale Sayers, the Bears' flashy running back and key to the whole Chicago offense, Butkus said he would be all right. "He is working out now and doesn't appear to have any problems," said Butkus. According to him, the only thing Sayers need worry about now is how the knee will hold up when he is tackled.

Butkus also claims that the Bears will be back in 1969, but must keep away from the injuries that possibly cost them the championship last season. He feels that Rufus Mayes, the giant tackle from Ohio State taken in the first round by the Bears in the NFL draft, will be a definite asset to the offense and that Virgil Carter, the young quarterback who did such a fine job for coach Jim Dooley, last season, will be every bit as good as he was last season and, perhaps, even better.

In talking to any pro football star, no matter which team he plays for, the question on what happened to the Green Bay Packers last season always arises. Butkus felt that the biggest problem with the Packers last year was the fact they couldn't find a kicker, a big factor in many of the close decisions that went the other way for Green Bay during 1968. "The whole league was also tougher," said Butkus. "It is always hard to repeat as champions and the Packers had a lot of the breaks go against them last year."

Butkus also felt that since Vince Lombardi left Green Bay, Phil Bengtson will be more on his own and will make the Packers winners once again. He felt that Lombardi will be a big lift to the Redskins because he has that winning attitude. Butkus claims that the Redskins have good material and that their only weak point is on defense.

In making his predictions for 1969, Butkus said that the Central Division race will remain about the same, except, as he put it, "We'll be on top." He said the reason for this statement was that the Bears are a better team and that all they need is a good start. He also said in summing up that the Central Division will be a strong division again.

Butkus stated that the New York Jets' surprising upset in the Super Bowl was no mistake. He said that the Jets didn't make a mistake in the game and the Colts played their worst game of the season. He also felt that the Colts would be back in the thick of things again next season.

Napoles Pounds Cokes In Welterweight Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cuban refugee Jose Napoles waited five years for his title shot and when he got it, the fight proved no contest as he hammered Curtis Cokes into submission after 13 rounds for the welterweight crown.

With his eyes swollen shut, Cokes simply couldn't see to continue fighting and although the boxer wanted to go on, manager Doug Lord asked the bout at The Forum Friday night be halted.

"I knew about the 10th round when he didn't like those left hooks to the body that I was winning," Napoles declared through an interpreter. "I followed our plan of keeping Cokes in the center of the ring and not let him fight off the ropes."

Napoles, who now calls Mexico City his home, weighed 143 to 145½ for the champion, and stood an inch shorter. Cokes had two inches in reach but that didn't help. Napoles kept boring in with his relentless attack.

"I just couldn't get off," the ex-champion said through swollen lips. "I just couldn't get started. Yes, I'd like a rematch."

Lord said, "you'll see a different Curtis Cokes in a rematch. If you don't, I'll retire him."

Cuco Conde, the new champion's manager, said they had agreed to give Cokes a chance to get the 147 pound title back but it remained undecided if the fight would be in the United States or Mexico City.

A crowd of 15,878 at the Forum paid a gross gate of $195,480, a new California indoor record surpassing the $193,000 drawn by bantams Lionel Rose of Australia and Chucho Castillo of Mexico last winter.

Cokes collected $80,000 and Napoles $20,000.

A top lightweight contender before he grew into a welter, Napoles now has a record of 53-4 including 38 knockouts. For Cokes, trying to defend the title a sixth time, it was his 10th loss against 55 victories.

Plante Helps Opposing Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jacques Plante, goalie for the St. Louis Blues, was working on a shutout string of 117 consecutive minutes when a strange thing happened: he helped stop the streak with an assist to an opposing player.

But all turned out well for the Blues as St. Louis, winner of the West Division of the National Hockey League, went on to beat the Los Angeles Kings 3-2 and take a 2-0 lead Thursday in their semifinal playoff series.

The weird goal came with 2:12 gone in the third period, skated behind his goal to clear the puck. His out pass came right to Los Angeles wing Dave Amadio, who was so surprised at seeing the puck, he fired it wildly toward the Blues' goal.

Defenseman Noel Picard of the Blues didn't see the puck until it had hit his stick and caromed into the net, breaking Plante's break.

The two teams are to go at it again tonight here with the Blues meeting a rejuvenated Los Angeles team.

Western Blanks Kent State, 2-0

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Western Michigan University pitcher John Pasterb went the route for the fifth time this season in defeating Kent State 2-0 Friday, bringing his pitching record to 5-0.

WMU is now tied with Ohio University for first place in the Mid-American conference. Each school owns a 3-1 record.

Kent State is now 0-1 in league play, with a 3-6-1 overall record. Western Michigan is now 13-5 overall.

Celtics Wrap Up Eastern Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, written off as tired old men just a short time ago, are back in familiar surroundings—the title round of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Acting like the old pros they are, the Celtics won the Eastern Division playoff for the 12th time in 13 years by hanging on for a 106-105 victory over the New York Knicks Friday night in steamy Boston Garden.

The Celtics, who have won the NBA championship 10 times since Player-coach Bill Russell entered the league and became a defensive genius 13 years ago, managed only one victory in seven starts against New York during the regular season.

Boston finished fourth in the East and the cry went up: "The Celtics are dead." But the Celtics were playing possum in their own way, aiming for the playoffs.

After finishing off Philadelphia in the Eastern semifinals, the tour. He says he only leaves the fairway to go to the phone. That's about right.

"And that's what you have to do to win on this course, stay in the fairway. The rough is really rough."

"If my driver stays like it was today," Trevino said Friday after shooting a second-round 68, four under par, "I'd say I like my chances very much."

"You've got to keep it in the fairway to win and I can hit it as straight as anyone else," Trevino, seven shots back going into the second round, and Archer, who has a pair of 71s, are tied at 142 going into today's third round on the 7,114 yard, par-72 La Costa Country Club course.

Just one shot back at 143 are Gene Littler, who had a second round 68, South African Gary Player, 49-year-old Julius Boros, the PGA champion, and dynamic Arnold Palmer.

Player, Boros and Palmer all had second round 74s. Dave Stockton is alone at 144 after a second round 75.

First round leader Dick Lotz, a 26-year-old Californian, dropped back with a 78 for 145, while bulky Jack Nicklaus shot himself out of contention with a whopping 80, one of the poorest rounds in years for the golden bear. He has a 36-hole score of 153, 11 shots off the pace and next to the bottom in the select, 28-man field.

Littler had a surprising round, going eight under par on the first 12 holes, then collecting two bogeys and a double bogey on the last six.

He included two eagles on his out-going nine when he matched the course record of 30, six under par. One was a 135 yard eight iron shot, the other a 75-yard wedge shot.

Hitters Ahead

BOSTON (AP) — The American League made it official Friday - the hitters are ahead of the pitchers so far this season.

League President Joe Cronin reported that in the first 49 games there were 412 runs, 826 hits and 103 homers. In the first 51 games last year there were only 351 runs, 737 hits and 83 homers.

Orioles Blank Senators For 4th Straight Time

By The Associated Press
Baltimore's pitching staff has Washington's number—and it's a great big zero.

Tom Phoebus fired a four-hitter at the Senators Friday night, blanking them 6-0 for the fourth straight shutout by Baltimore's staff against Washington this season.

Phoebus got plenty of support from the potent Baltimore attack which provided four more home runs, two of them by Paul Blair. The Orioles have won seven of their last eight games and slammed 16 homers over that span.

In other American League action, Boston belted Cleveland 10-7 and Minnesota took California 6-0 on a two-hitter by rookie Tom Hall. Oakland's game at Kansas City and Seattle's game at Chicago were rained out. Detroit and New York had the day off.

In addition to Blair's two homers, Frank Robinson tagged his sixth of the season, extending his hitting streak to 11 games, and Elrod Hendricks added a two-run shot.

The Orioles, fresh from a three-game, 30-run, 48-hit romp in Boston, kept the pounding up against the Senators. Blair homered in the first inning and then hit another in the third in almost the identical spot. Hendricks, had a two-run shot against reliever Casey Cox and leads the American League with a .435 batting average. Robinson's 41st average is third in the AL.

It was Phoebus' second shutout against the Senators. Baltimore hung three straight blanking on Washington last weekend.

Boston caught Fenway fever from the Orioles, who had just left town, and cracked five home runs out of the friendly confines of its park to batter Cleveland.

Pinozek Directs Business Effort Of Cancer Drive

Jack Beck, president of the Delta County Cancer Society, announced that Dave Pinozek, station manager of WLST, has accepted the position of business and professional drive chairman.

Pinozek said that he and his WLST staff already have begun to contact local businesses and professional offices and hope to have the entire area canvassed soon.

The Cancer Drive in Delta County is broken down into three phases: Residential, township, business and professional. In the residential phase of the drive, local volunteer workers do not call on business or professional offices.

April is proclaimed nationally as cancer control month and the cancer crusade began locally April 13.

John LaBranche, crusade chairman, pointed out that contrary to the opinion of many persons, employees of business and industry do not donate at their place of employment.

The business drive is intended to receive donations from business owners only and not their employees, he said. Also, gifts donated by Labor Unions are specially designated charitable funds and are not individual contributions by union members.

Speech Clinic

MARQUETTE — Speech pathologists from the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and the University of Illinois will be featured speakers at a workshop on language disorders at Northern Michigan University Friday, April 25.

Invitations to the workshop have been extended to speech clinicians, physicians, and nursing directors.

In Service

BM2 David Moersch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Moersch, 323 S. 10th St. has returned to Norfolk, Va., where he is serving aboard the USS Guadacanal, after an emergency leave at home. He was brought home through the efforts of the Red Cross due to the illness of his father who is still a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital, Green Bay.

Teacher 'Strikes' Not Apt To Be Solved Soon

By JEAN WORTH

IRON MOUNTAIN — Businessmen of the mid-Upper Peninsula were told at a legislative breakfast at the Dickinson Hotel Tuesday that it's doubtful that when the Legislature goes home after the present session that there'll be any new laws on the books affecting strikes by public employees.

The issue has its most crucial test in Michigan at present in the employment of school teachers.

The speaker at the meeting, sponsored by the Dickinson County Area Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan Chamber, was the latter's legislative counsel at Lansing, Bill Wickham.

He thought that mediation efforts to settle public employment labor problems will be beefed up and that local school boards will be built up with skilled counsel to cope with the teachers' demands as laid out by experts of the Michigan Education Association, but that there'll be no new basic legislation this year affecting the situation.

Open Anyway

The situation, he said, is a very mixed one and he looks for a difficult session for school people at Lansing. A lot of businessmen, he said, are saying of the school financing crisis in Michigan: "To heck with it; I'm not getting involved."

Persons in the audience said they thought that the problem of dealing with teachers' demands for more pay and more voice in school management is moving toward more state control of local schools and more Lansing influence in bargaining.

"If industry negotiates away all its money," said Wickham "it's out of business, but the schools can't do that; after they use up all their income they have to stay open anyway."

Public Strikes
Michigan's public employees act was amended in 1965 to authorize public employees to join labor organizations and to bargain on wages and working conditions. The right to strike was not granted.

Very active union organizing and pay demands followed. "The school boards didn't know what was happening to them," said Wickham. "Public employees kept the same rights they had had before bargaining under the new situation."

All teachers in Michigan have protection under the State Tenure Act. Once a two year probation is fulfilled, they can't be discharged by local school boards except by a procedure reviewable at a tenure commission of the state, and ultimately by state courts.

Can't Raise Or Close

"The teachers have great job security," said Wickham. "The public school which employs them can't close shop. It can't arbitrarily raise prices (like a manufacturer adjusting to wage increases), it must go to the people to ask for more taxes."

"The Labor Mediation Board is principally for private employment and there probably will eventually be a new division to deal with public employment problems. The Legislature is for a change to a board that would do fact-finding, conduct hearings and invoke compulsory arbitration."

"The usual arguments for compulsory arbitration or mediation are:

"1. Someone must decide the issue eventually.
"2. When it's known that there must be a decision there's more inclination to agree and settle."

Not Striking

"The arguments against arbitration are that the unit of government which represents the taxpayers can't pass on costs to them without their approval; no one has been assigned this power over the public. The firemen, for instance, want compulsory arbitration. The subject is highly controversial among the unions themselves."

When it was asked if government employees are going to exercise a right to strike why they should not lose protections like the teachers' longevity and tenure laws, Wickham said that the Michigan Education Association takes the position that they are not striking when they refuse to go to work and open the schools in the fall; that they have no contract yet, so they are not employees so they can't strike.

Daughter Denies 'Exploded' Claim

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football Coach Duffy Daugherty has flatly rejected a claim that Negro athletes are "exploited" at MSU.

It was contained in a list of grievances recited by Jason Lovette, a spokesman for some 60 Negroes attending a meeting of the university Board of Trustees Friday.

"Black athletes are exploited for four years of athletic participation and cut loose without proper education or a degree," Lovette said.

"We strongly encourage all our athletes—black or white—to complete their education," Daugherty said.

Daugherty said he is sure that the record of football players and all athletes—black or white—is better than the 40 per cent of all incoming students who fail to graduate.

New Beer Tax To Help Bosch

LANSING (AP) — By raising the state beer manufacturing tax ten cents per barrel the Legislature may help bolster reported sales slumps of two long-time outstate brewers.

The 105-year-old Bosch Brewery at Houghton and the 90-year-old Geyer Brothers firm at Frankenmuth are the two companies to be helped by a bill the House passed Friday and sent to the Senate.

Introduced by Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, the bill would hike the state tax to $6.40 on the first 10,000 barrels sold but grant a $2.10 rebate on the second 15,000 barrels.

Based on industry figures of 5.4 million barrels (31 gallons of brew to a barrel) sold last year, the state tax revenue would jump $54,000 to $34.56 million.

The bill's effect, however, would be a tax advantage to Bosch and Geyer and a relatively insignificant increase for the larger brewers and distributors in the states.

An industry spokesman indicated both Geyer and Bosch have suffered continuous sales drops in recent years; Geyer sales plunged from 15,000 barrels in 1965 to under 12,000 last year, while Bosch fell from 61,000 barrels in 1965 to a year ago low of 35,000 barrels.

Hellman contended the continuing strike by Copper miners in the Upper Peninsula makes Bosch a key area industry. He said the rebate is tailored to put Michigan's relatively high tax more in line with what other states charge. The Wisconsin tax, Hellman said, is only $1 per barrel.

Top distributor in the state is the Wisconsin-based Pabst Brewery which also makes Blatz, ranked fifth in Michigan.

The Stroh Brewing Co. of Detroit is second in state sales. Under the bill, Pabst which last year sold some 1.6 million barrels in the state, would pay $12.5 million. Under the old formula it last year paid $12.28 million, according to industry figures.

MSU Trustees Support Plan Doubling Minorities

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University trustees Friday pledged support of a program aimed at nearly doubling the number of Negro and other minority group students on the campus.

The trustees approved a resolution to increase from $250,000 to $1.5 million the amount of money earmarked for the university Equal Opportunities Program and the Center for Urban Affairs in the next fiscal year.

Both programs mainly are designed to aid Negroes, although they also extend aid to other minority groups.

A major aim of the program, the trustees agreed, will be to recruit up to 1,000 additional Negro students a year.

MSU now has 1,007 Negro students out of a total campus enrollment of 39,949.

About 60 Negro students, some wearing African headbands, attended the board meeting.

They watched and listened quietly and attentively. There were no demonstrations, although at one point a spokesman interrupted to read a list of complaints.

Blanche Martin, former star Spartan football player, now an East Lansing dentist and the first university Negro trustee, commented afterwards the students "should be congratulated for the way they conducted themselves, like ladies and gentlemen."

Applaud Group

The trustees gave the group a round of applause.

The board also approved resolutions:

— Supporting creation of a Wayne County Community College.

— Calling for a requirement of proof of equal opportunities in employment for all campus contractors.

— Authorizing acting President Walter Adams to use money from current funds for items urgently needed by the Equal Opportunities Program and the Center for Urban Affairs.

All these resolutions passed by unanimous 6-0 votes. Five Democrats and one Republican voted. The one Republican present was Frank Merriman of Deckerville. Absent were Republicans Kenneth Thompson of East Lansing and Stephen Nisbet of Fremont.

Also approved was a resolution by Warren Huff of Plymouth, specifying that any excess legislative appropriations should be used for the program to recruit the added 1,000 minority group students.

"About 11 per cent of our Michigan citizens are black and we are a long way from using 11 per cent of our state funds for black education," Huff said.

Merriman voted against this resolution, saying it needed more study.

Don Stevens of Okemos, board chairman, termed passage of the resolutions, which he sponsored, "a first step."

"I hope it will be a giant step," he said. "Some day I think $5 million will be a realistic figure."

Stevens said he hoped the Legislature would be receptive and needed to be sold on the idea. He suggested that part of the $1.5 million might come from federal funds or private grants.

Lack Funds

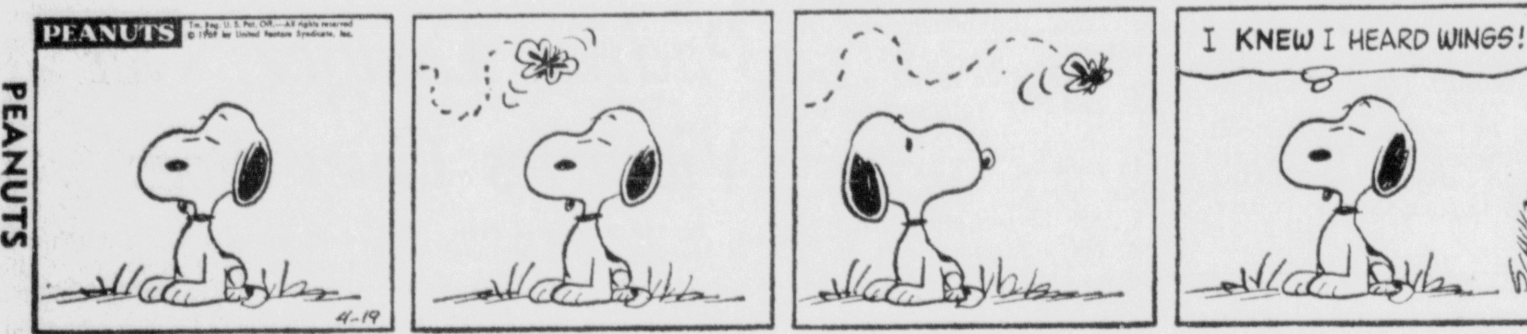

Robert Green, associate director of the center for urban affairs, said studies have been made of such programs for years without any progress.

"The key problem is lack of funds," he said.

He termed the $1.5 million "the bare minimum needed" and said $3 million would be a more realistic figure.

Columbia University, he noted, has appropriated $10 million for such programs.

Windows of the Soul

Eyes have been called the windows of the soul. Clarity, expression and size—all of these are supposed to reveal character. A child's eyes seem innocent. But small, closely-placed eyes may also indicate deception. Some even say that you can tell a criminal by his eyes.

Calling it nonsense, even scientists find it hard to dispel the old wives' tales that have persisted for centuries.

Eyes, in a certain sense, can be the windows of the soul—precious windows through which you look at life. Don't judge another man by his eyes. Look instead through eyes of understanding and compassion, for in God's sight we are all equal. If your inner vision has been a bit faulty lately, why not start going to church next Sunday?
